a WILD week IN REVIEW

I hope your new year is off to a great start! Like many of you, I've enjoyed spending time with family and friends this holiday season. I often find that this time is a great opportunity to reflect on the past year and plan for the year ahead.

In 2023, I'm thrilled that I was able to secure nearly $15 million in federal funding for projects in our community. This community project funding – sometimes referred to as “earmarks” – will support the creation of a new Saucon Creek YMCA, repairs to Gracedale Nursing Home in Northampton County, and the establishment of a suicide response team at Pinebrook Family Answers in Lehigh County. For more information on the federal money that returned home to PA-07 this year, and the projects I'm advocating for in 2024, click here.

I also wanted to let you know that my Easton district office has moved locations. If you need help with a federal agency – or just want to stop in to say hi – please visit my Easton office at 1 South 3rd Street, Suite 902. My staff in Allentown and Lehighon are also ready to help!

Good-quality, affordable health care shouldn't depend on your zip code

As a member of the Bipartisan Rural Health Caucus, I am constantly working to find ways to expand and protect access to care for all members of our community – because your health care shouldn't depend on where you live.

There are approximately 60 million individuals living in rural communities across the United States, including over a third of Pennsylvanians. Across my district, access to health care in the rural parts is a recurring challenge, though I've been happy to see the expansion of two of our hospital networks into the more rural areas.

I will always keep up the fight to ensure that my community, and every community, can see a doctor, afford their medications and feel the peace of mind that quality health care brings. No one deserves any less.

Rep. Wild Advocates for Expanding Access to High-Quality Health Care in Rural America

Whenever I'm home in our district, I take time to hear from members of our community about the issues that matter to them. I've heard time and time again about the challenges of accessing high-quality, affordable health care.

As a member of the Bipartisan Rural Health Caucus, I'm committed to ensuring individuals in every corner of our district have access to the lifesaving treatments and medications they need. That's why I'm working to lower the cost of prescription drugs, advocating for teaching hospitals to receive fairer reimbursements, protecting the 340B program, and expanding access to reliable, high-speed internet so patients can access telehealth services.

For more information on the work I'm doing to expand access to health care for rural Americans, check out my recent op-ed in The Hill.
