Out and About Listening to You

By Rep. Rosemary Brown

MONROE COUNTY - This week, January 23, was National Pie Day! I celebrated by stopping at the Village Farmer and Bakery in Delaware Water Gap. My family and I loved the fresh chicken pot pies for dinner and a fresh peach pie for dessert. With the prolonged closure of RT611, this is just another reason to support this Del. Water Gap staple. Treat yourself, your friends, or your family to some delicious homemade baked goods. Open 8 AM – 8 PM located on Broad Street in Del. Water Gap.

This week, I visited the Wilderz at Pocono Wildlife Rehabilitation and Education Center (Cherry Drive, Stbg.) to meet with Kathy, Susan, and Janine. From eagles, to foxes, to an owl, a racoon, and more... I was able to meet their newest wildlife residents. We discussed their overall updates and mission, needs, and suggestions to continue their great work to over ten counties in the Pocono region.

As a reminder, they provide humane and loving care for injured, orphaned, or sick wildlife. They work to rehabilitate them and return them to the wild. They play a strong role in public health as diseases identified and controlled within our wildlife and often affect humans. Lastly, they offer education and information to the public about wildlife.
