Governor to Give Budget Address on Tuesday

By Rep. Joe Emrick

Gov. Josh Shapiro will deliver his 2025-26 state budget address this Tuesday, Feb. 4, before a joint session of the General Assembly.

It's important to remember the governor's address is only a starting point for the budget process. After reviewing the budget, the House Appropriations Committee will hold three weeks of public hearings to review the budget line by line with agency leaders. This will be the first opportunity for House Republicans to provide feedback and develop a fiscally responsible plan. At the conclusion of the budget hearings the House will return to session and begin the work of crafting a budget for the new fiscal year, which begins July 1.

As always, Tuesday's House session will stream live at www.PAHouseGOP.com.

Is PA Money Match Heading Your Way?

By Rep. Joe Emrick

The Pennsylvania Treasury Department is sending the first batch of PA Money Match letters this week, so keep an eye on your mailboxes to see if you'll be receiving some unclaimed property!

PA Money Match is a new law, which passed the General Assembly unanimously last year with my support, allowing Treasury to automatically return certain unclaimed property. Eligible properties must be valued at $500 or less and belong to a single owner. Those with eligible properties will receive a letter in the mail to confirm their address, then about 45 days later they'll receive a check for their property.

Treasurer Stacy Garrity said the first round of PA Money Match has the potential to return over $2 million to more than 8,000 Pennsylvanians.

In total, PA Treasury is working to return more than $4.5 billion in unclaimed property. This money includes things like dormant bank accounts, uncashed checks, rebates, insurance payments and more.
