

Alumni Dedinating Wall To Those Who Have Made A Difference At Northampton County School District

By Pen Argyl Area School District

PEN ARGYL - Alumni of a school district in Northampton County Tuesday dedicated a wall to people who have made a difference in the district.

The wall is being built brick by brick.

The Pen Argyl Area School District's alumni association is building a wall at the high school stadium.

Some of the wall is finished, including pillars. But the white space between the pillars will be filled with 4-inch by 8-inch bricks.

The bricks will be inscribed with the names of honored alums and loved ones who have made an impact in the district.

You can buy a brick for $125 through the Pen Argyl Alumni Association.

Match Day

"During my first year here, I had the opportunity to shadow a few emergency medicine residents. One of the first-year residents immediately asked what I wanted to learn, how she could teach me, and if I'd like to come see patients with her," says Hellinger, whose family traveled across the state to be with him on Match Day. "She's a fellow here now who I had the privilege of working with on my ICU rotation and has been a longitudinal mentor from the residency side."

Hellinger matched to Emergency Medicine at St. Luke's Anderson Campus.

His classmate, Sierra Camburn, had a similar experience at St. Luke's, though hers started in high school. The Quakertown native once took part in a medical careers pathway program that allowed her to spend time at the Quakertown Campus several days a week. Additionally, as an undergrad at Penn State, she did a pre-med observership at the Bethlehem Campus. It was then that she fell in love with labor and delivery, and she now hopes to match into an obstetrics and gynecology residency.

"One of the perks of coming to a campus like this is that everyone has been a mentor," Camburn said before rattling off a long list of names of those who have helped her along the way. "There has been no shortage of people here who want to teach us. I've discovered one of the perks of being at a community-based hospital is that during rotations, physicians get to know you and trust you and want to mentor you. It's been a great experience for me. I've learned so much from everybody I've worked with."

Camburn matched to OB/GYN at New York University, Long Island.
