GIVING BACK

Life is a gift full of pleasure
Life is a gift for us to treasure.
And since it's a gift shouldn't we repay
Even if only in some small way.

For there are those who stand in need
Those who look for some good deed.
So let's repay our gift of life
By helping others through storm and strife.

In offering yourself, you will find
A treasure of another kind.
It's that warm feeling that comes over you
A reward for the good things that you do.

Pennsylvania Expands Access to Pharmacy Services

By Wanda Murren

HARRISBURG - Harrisburg, PA — The Wolf administration is removing barriers for pharmacies to provide services for Pennsylvanians in response to the COVID-19 outbreak. Governor Wolf has granted a request from the Pennsylvania Department of State to suspend certain pharmacy regulations to enable more flexible and available services during the coronavirus emergency.

The temporary changes include helping pharmacies practice social distancing for staff and allowing for the licensure of out-of-state pharmacies to ship goods into Pennsylvania.

"Temporarily lifting certain requirements and restrictions allows qualified pharmacy professionals to more easily provide essential services," Secretary of State Kathy Boockvar said. "This measure will help to ensure that Pennsylvanians continue to receive the medications and pharmacy services they need."

Suspended regulations include:

Governor Wolf's order will enable remote supervision by telephone or computer, so pharmacy technicians and pharmacy interns may carry out data entry without a supervising pharmacist "on the premises."

For out-of-state pharmacies that wish to ship goods into Pennsylvania, the requirement for nonresident pharmacy registration is temporarily suspended for the duration of the COVID-19 emergency, and out-of-state pharmacies may ship into Pennsylvania provided that:
