Technical School Education Day

By Rep. Ann Flood

SLATE BELT - Student representatives from the Career Institute of Technology (CIT) participated in Technical School Education Day at the Capitol. This annual event provides a unique opportunity for students to showcase their technical school education to an audience of Pennsylvania legislators.

The students presented an educational display describing the skills they will develop in CIT's programs of study. Aiden, a CIT student, showed me a wooden model house built and designed by CIT students, featuring 3D-printed furniture and other interesting features. I was very impressed with this project!

At CIT, occupational, professional and academic skills are integrated throughout each program. To learn more about CIT, visit citvt.com/.
