Senator Boscola Joins Governor Shapiro in Northampton County – Highlighting Critical Role of Mass Transit

By Senator Lisa Boscola

Earlier today, I was proud to welcome Governor Josh Shapiro and PennDOT Secretary Mike Carroll to the Lehigh Valley as we joined transit leaders, other local officials, and Lehigh and Northampton Transportation Authority (LANTA) bus operators and riders at Lehigh Valley Hospital-Hecktown Oaks in Northampton County. The purpose of the Governor's visit this morning was to bring to the forefront the critical role mass transit plays in connecting communities across the Commonwealth, creating jobs, and growing Pennsylvania's economy.

Shapiro Reliably funding our public transits systems is an infrastructure investment. It pays dividends for all of us. Effective public transit means fewer cars on the roads and less wear on the pavement. When more people use public transit, air quality increases. It gets people to work. To the store. To school. To doctor's appointments — and it does so efficiently and affordably. We need to make sure that continues and Governor Shapiro's proposed $292 million in new mass transit funding next year (generating over $1.5 billion in the next five years) will make sure that gets it done.

If we're serious about supporting working families, growing our economy, and keeping our region moving forward — then we need to invest in public transportation. It is that simple. It is actually just common sense.

I would like to personally thank the Governor and Secretary Carroll for coming to the Lehigh Valley today, having our back, and working to ensure access to public transportation across PA.
