

History Comes Alive Along the Canal

By Mark Evan, DLNHC Education and Program Outreach Manager

EASTON - One of the goals of Delaware & Lehigh National Heritage Corridor is to help residents recognize and appreciate the many ways their predecessors contributed to the development of our great country. Whether they drove mules, captained canal boats, tended locks, fed anthracite coal into the furnaces of growing industries, or descended into the earth to mine that coal, their perseverance continues to inspire us all—today and for generations to come.

Discover how we're bringing this rich history to life for a new generation. From hands-on student programs to mule-drawn canal boat rides, the National Canal Museum offers a rare and unforgettable glimpse into the lives of those who helped build our region. Meet our beloved mules, explore the power of simple machines, and experience the canal as it was traveled centuries ago.
