JVI LLC and the Green Knight Economic Development Corporation Host Ribbon Cutting At The Green Knight Industrial Park

By Chad Helmer

WIND GAP - Real estate developer JVI LLC and the Green Knight Economic Development Corporation (GKEDC) hosted a ribbon cutting to celebrate the first building to be completed at the Green Knight Industrial Park (GKIP) in Wind Gap, PA. JVI purchased the approximately 4-acre lot from the GKEDC in September 2023 and recently completed construction of an approximate 49,000 square foot, 8,000 pallet ultra-modern 3PL logistics facility that will be leased and operated by Trillion Sources.

JVI President Jim Vozar noted that as part of JVI's and Trillion's commitment to green initiatives, the energy efficient facility was constructed using eco-friendly and sustainable materials. The celebration marked the culmination of years of work and investment to develop the GKIP by the GKEDC and multiple economic development partners, many of whom were on hand to celebrate the opening.

GKEDC Chairman Robert Cornman recognized the commitment and diligence of the many partners who supported the GKIP including the Pennsylvania Department of Community and Economic Development and Commonwealth Financing Authority, U.S. Environmental

Wild Donates Library of Congress Books to Local Library

By Congress Woman Susan Wild

NAZARETH - While I was home for Fourth of July last week, I stopped by the Memorial Library of Nazareth to donate books from the Library of Congress. The Library of Congress runs a Surplus Books Program, which allows books that they do not need for their own collection to be donated to libraries across the U.S.

While I was there, I thanked the incredible team of volunteers and learned more about the programs our local libraries promote – from helping us expand our horizons through new stories to supporting our children as they learn to read. Our libraries are important pillars in our community, and I was glad to have the opportunity to spend some time in one of PA-07's great ones!
