a WILD week IN REVIEW

At Fraternal Order of Police Convention, Rep. Wild Highlights Support for Law Enforcement

This week, I spoke at the Pennsylvania Fraternal Order of Police convention in Bethlehem and thanked the brave men and women who work everyday to keep our community safe. I'm so grateful for the dedication of our local law enforcement officers, and I'm working to ensure they have the resources they need to safely and effectively do their job.

That's why I am so proud to have secured the most public safety funding out of any Pennsylvania House Democrat! Earlier this year, I joined Senator Casey to announce a nearly $1 million grant to help keep our police officers safe at crime scenes. I also recently joined my colleagues to endorse a slate of 15 bills that will enhance public safety and security for all our communities. I'll always support our local law enforcement officers and ensure they have the resources they need to keep our communities safe.

Alongside White House Officials, UAW, Rep. Wild Celebrates $200 Million Grant for Mack Trucks

Today, I joined White House advisor Tom Perez at Mack Trucks to celebrate the $200 million grant I helped secure to create good-paying, union jobs and allow Mack to enhance their production of zero emission trucks. I was proud to support Mack's application for this grant, and I will always stand with our local businesses and unions as they work to bolster our economy and produce the goods we rely on.

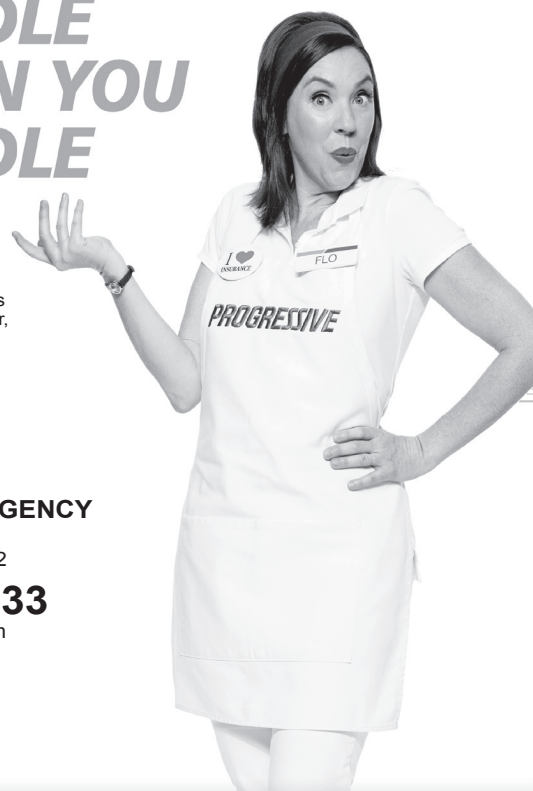

As we confront our rapidly changing climate, it's critical that we bring businesses and workers into the conversation, and Mack is a fantastic example of a company taking action to protect our planet while producing Made in America goods and supporting union jobs.
