New Law Extends Military Family Education Benefits

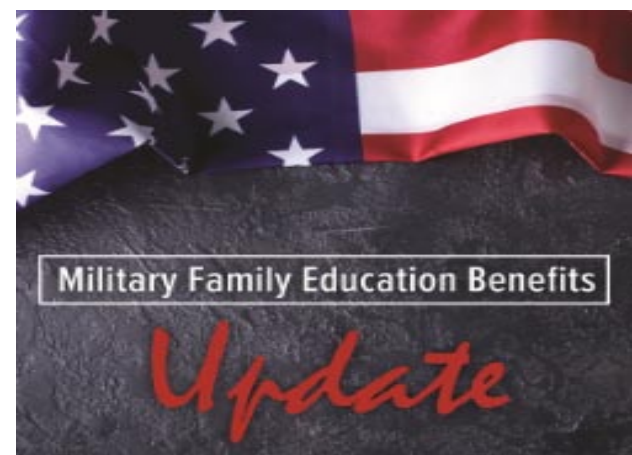

By State Rep. Joe Emrick

Recognizing the sacrifices made by National Guard members and their families, I recently joined in the unanimous support of legislation to allow family of Pennsylvania National Guard members to claim additional education benefits each time the Guard member reenlists or renews their service commitment.

Act 32 of 2025 (formerly House Bill 865) amends the state's Military Family Education Program to clarify that the program's education assistance is a renewable benefit each time a Guard member reenlists or renews their service obligation for an additional six-year term.

The bill also allows funds to be used for a wider range of educational programs, including remedial programs and advanced degrees, and provides for debt forgiveness when a member separates from the Guard for reasons beyond the member's control.

The law takes effect in early September.
