

Election Presentation for Senior Citizens

By Brittney Waylen

EASTON - The Northampton County Area Agency on Aging and the Elections Office announce a series of specialized election presentations exclusively for senior citizens residing in Northampton County beginning in August.

These informative presentations aim to provide the senior community with knowledge on effectively exercising their voting rights. Key topics of the presentations will include assistance for senior citizens in voter registration, how to apply for mail-in ballots, instructions on completing mail-in ballot envelope procedures, and more. Elections staff will be available during the sessions to assist attendees with any questions they may have and will provide necessary documentation for same-day completion.

"We are excited to announce a partnership between our Elections Office and the Area Agency on Aging to enhance voter education among our residents," says Executive Lamont G. McClure. "It is crucial that our senior community members are well-informed about the voting process and have the resources they need to participate in elections."

The Northampton County's Area Agency on Aging Division and the Elections Office encourage interested senior citizens to attend an informative session.
