DMA P Permits Available Starting Monday

By DCNR

The third round of antlerless deer license sales kicks off at 8 a.m. on Monday, Aug. 11, which also marks the first opportunity for hunters to pick up their Deer Management Assistance Program (DMA P) permits.

DMA P permits are used to harvest an antlerless deer on the specific property for which the permit is issued. For some properties, DMA P permits are available to purchase directly, online or at an issuing agent, and hunters may purchase up to two permits per property. For other properties, a hunter must first obtain between one and four coupons from the landowner, then redeem them to purchase their DMA P permits.

Each DMA P permit costs $10.97 for residents and $35.97 for nonresidents.

According to the Pennsylvania Game Commission, antlerless deer licenses also remain available in most WMUs. When the third round of sales begins Monday, hunters who already have bought two antlerless licenses can pick up a third, or hunters who have not yet gotten a license can purchase up to three.
