Policy Committee Meets in Bethlehem to Discuss Tourism with Influential Testifiers in the Lehigh Valley

By State Rep. Ann Flood

LEHIGH VALLEY - I had the pleasure of hosting a Republican Policy Committee Hearing on Tourism and hospitality discussing how we can bring more economic growth to the Lehigh Valley and address the issues the hospitality industry is currently facing. We discussed the impact inflation is having on workforce hire, retention and pay and the potential to expand the special events permit to serve alcohol. Our testifiers included Alex Michaels, (CEO) Discover Lehigh Valley, Kassie Hilgert, (CEO) Artsquest, Jessica Naderman - (General Manager) Dorney Park, Amanda Shurr - (President) Lehigh Valley Zoo and Kurt Landes - (President and General Manager) Iron Pigs Baseball.

After the hearing, Kassie Hilgert, CEO of ArtsQuest, took other members and me on a tour of historic downtown Bethlehem and Musikfest to highlight the major economic impact tourism and hospitality has on our beautiful region. These hearings and tours lasted over the span of nearly two days, and I was proud to host members and expert testifiers to discuss these important issues.
