

ICYMI: Senator McCormick Meets with Pope Leo XIV and Ambassador to the Holy See

By U.S. Senator Dave McCormick

Over the recent congressional recess, Dina and I had the profound honor of meeting His Holiness Pope Leo XIV at the Vatican. It was a deeply humbling experience that we will carry with us for the rest of our lives.

We spoke about the kind of leadership the world needs during these challenging and uncertain times. I also shared with him how proud I am to represent the vibrant community of about 3.4 million Catholics in Pennsylvania, and we reflected on the proud legacy of his alma mater, Villanova University.

I was especially grateful for the opportunity to ask for his prayers. Meeting with the first pope born in the U.S. was truly a blessing we will never forget.

We were also honored to meet with Brian Burch, the U.S. Ambassador to the Holy See. I'm thankful for his leadership and work alongside Pope Leo XIV to strengthen the bonds between the U.S. and the Holy See.

Pennsylvania Catholics routinely extoll the virtues of faith, charity, and selflessness that are the lifeblood of our communities. It's an honor to serve all of you in the United States Senate.
