RESIDENTIAL AND COMMERCIAL FAÇADE IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The Residential and Commercial Façade Improvement Programs are designed to help improve the exterior appearance and condition of residential and commercial properties within the four boroughs. The program's goals are to maintain historical and architectural integrity, improve neighborhood appearance, and help property owners make exterior repairs to their homes or businesses while increasing property values for all borough residents.

ABOUT SLATE BELT RISING

Valley Youth House Receives Neighborhood Grant

By Rite Aid Healthy Futures

BETHLEHEM - Valley Youth House has received a $10,000 neighborhood grant from Rite Aid Healthy Futures to continue advancing its important mission focused on building solid foundations for young people and their families through responsive programming.

Part of its overall Empowering Children signature initiative for Rite Aid Healthy Futures, the Neighborhood Grants help nonprofits address the toughest health and wellness challenges facing kids today.

Valley Youth House joins 370 other grassroots organizations who have each received a $10,000 grant for general operations. The funds will help them continue to deliver critical services as inflation, food insecurity, troubling mental health trends and other converging factors impact children.

Funding will be used for crucial general support to advance Valley Youth House's efforts supporting the well-being of children and youth.

"We are grateful to Rite Aid Healthy Futures for their generous grant, which empowers Valley Youth House to continue our mission of providing vital support and resources to vulnerable youth," said Tom Harrington, President and Executive Director of Valley Youth House. "This partnership exemplifies the transformative impact that collaboration can have on the lives of young individuals."

The grants are funded through the KidCents customer fundraising program, which allows Rite Aid customers to round up their purchases in-store and online to support children's health and wellness.

By rounding up their nickels, dimes and quarters, millions of Rite Aid customers contribute to local charities restoring hope, resilience and self-esteem in children.

"Children today face acute and converging crises across a range of fields that adversely impact their quality of life," said Matt DeCamara, executive director of Rite Aid Healthy Futures. "Thanks to the generosity of Rite Aid customers, these hyperlocal organizations can continue to provide much needed programs and services steadilying the course for children today and guiding them toward promising tomorrows."
