Honoring Eagle Scout Daniel DeFranco

By State Rep. Ann Flood

I recently had the pleasure of welcoming Eagle Scout Daniel Stephen DeFranco of Troop 36 in Roseto to my district office. Daniel recently achieved the rank of Eagle Scout, an accomplishment that reflects years of dedication, leadership and service.

He has taken on several leadership roles within his troop, including patrol leader, senior patrol leader and, most recently, junior assistant scoutmaster. For his Eagle project, he designed and installed a new sign at the bottom of the Roseto American Legion parking lot, creating an improvement that will benefit the community for years to come.

I was proud to present Daniel with a

House citation recognizing this outstanding achievement. His parents, Stephen and Suzanne DeFranco, also joined us, and it was a pleasure to share this special moment with them.

Pen Argyl High School Celebrates National Recognition

By State Rep. Ann Flood

Congratulations to Pen Argyl High School, the only high school in Pennsylvania named a 2025 National School of Character. The school recently marked the achievement with an assembly, engaging activities and lively music for everyone to enjoy.

Students, staff, community members and graduates who participated in the character education program came together to recognize the dedication behind this honor. My legislative aide, Lisa, attended the wonderful celebration on my behalf.

From service projects to character education, the Green Knights show that leadership begins with integrity. Whether volunteering with underprivileged children or helping to feed families in need, they are making a real difference both in the classroom and throughout the community.

As a proud Pen Argyl High School alum, I congratulate the Green Knights on this outstanding achievement!

CONGRATULATIONS!
