PEN ARGYL - Slate Belt Chamber held a grand re-opening for the new owners of 'Mr Pasti' in Pen Argyl who bought the business back in 2020. New owners Chris & Martha Tallrico, Ed & Lisa Saukulak, and Todd Donnelly met with Brian Fenstermaker, Dir. of Slate Belt Rising to take advantage of their commercial facade program to make improvements to the outside of their building.

Rep. Anne Flood attended the event and presented the new owners with a citation thanking them for their economic development investment in the Slate Belt. Tammy Kemp-Pen Argyl Borough Councilwoman also attended.

"We are committed to make our Mr. Pastie brand a household name. Our mission is simple - the customer always comes first as we strive to make the most delicious product for you, every time. Our staff is a collective of men & women who are up before daybreak ready to make fresh handmade pasties 5 days a week. Pasties are sold in-store here in Pen Argyl, or you can find us in grocery stores across the Mid-Atlantic Region" said the owners.

3rd Annual Holly Jolly Holiday Festival to Benefit Slate Belt Y

By Michael Ortoski

PEN ARGYL - Slate Belt Rising and Blue Flame Events owned by Kimberly Stocker held a celebration of holiday shopping with over 25 vendors hosted by the Slate Belt Y this past Saturday for the third year in a row.

Holiday music played in the background as shoppers viewed the vendors wares and munched on food from the 'Old Mill Pub' food truck. A tricky tray was set up as a fund raiser for the Y by donations from the community and some of the vendors.

A professional photographer was on hand to take the children's photo with Santa and Mrs. Clause and even some adults also sat with them Like Lisa from the Y.
