Belleville Street Faire Returns to Bethlehem on Saturday, May 9

A European-Inspired Outdoor Market Experience Featuring 100+ Makers, Food Trucks, Music, and Family-Friendly Fun

By Mary Jane
Bethlehem, PA — Belleville Market is proud to announce the return of the Belleville Street Faire, taking place on Saturday, May 9, 2026, from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM at ArtsQuest's SteelStacks campus in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

Inspired by the outdoor markets of Europe, the Belleville Street Faire brings together over 100 carefully curated makers, curators, and collectors for a one-day celebration of small business, craftsmanship, and community.

Guests can explore an open-air market filled with handmade goods, vintage finds, home décor, apparel, artisanal foods, and more. Each vendor is thoughtfully selected to reflect Belleville's signature blend of quality, storytelling, and discovery.

"Belleville Street Faire isn't just an event, it's an experience," said Derrick Clark, Co-Founder of Belleville Market. "We curate every detail to reflect the magic of Europe's great street markets while giving a platform to incredible local and regional talent. Our goal is to create a space where creativity, craftsmanship, and community come alive."

In addition to shopping, attendees can enjoy:

- A diverse lineup of over 20 local food trucks and specialty food and drink vendors
- Music from The Nite Liters, spinning crowd-favorite tracks throughout the day
- Giveaways and on-site activations, including prizes from local radio partner B104
- A welcoming, family-friendly atmosphere designed for all ages

Set against the industrial backdrop of SteelStacks, the event blends old-world market charm with the energy of the Lehigh Valley's creative community.

The Belleville Street Faire continues to grow as a regional destination event, drawing visitors from across Eastern Pennsylvania and beyond. It reflects Belleville's broader mission: reimagining the neighborhood department store through thoughtful curation, elevated retail, and meaningful experiences.

A special highlight of this year's event is the return of the Children's Entrepreneur Market, featuring nearly two dozen young creators and innovators ages 5 to 17. These inspiring kid-run businesses will showcase handmade crafts, baked goods, original art, and imaginative services, offering a fresh and exciting perspective on creativity and entrepreneurship.

"With Belleville Market, we've always aimed to celebrate small businesses and foster meaningful community connections," added Warren Clark. "The Belleville Street Faire brings that spirit to a larger stage—spotlighting makers, vintage curators, and entrepreneurs from across the region."
