When it comes to housing,

little things shouldn't make a difference.
If you have children and a landlord refuses to rent to you, requires a higher security deposit, limits the use of facilities, or says you can only live in certain areas of a housing complex... that could be discrimination. And housing discrimination is against the law.

What We Plant, Where We Plant
By DCNR
HARRISBURG - What we plant, where we plant, and how we care for our gardens can help reduce our energy and water usage, carbon footprint, and more. Try some of these green tips this gardening season:
Place rain barrels under downspouts and use the water for your lawn or garden.
Choose native plants which thrive with less maintenance, reducing the need to water and fertilize them.
Plant clumps of natives with different flower colors and shapes, and that flower at different times of the year for pollinators.
Compost kitchen and yard trimmings to help cut down landfill waste and need for chemical fertilizers.
