Unclaimed Property is Not Just Another Free Money Scam

By Rep. Joe Emrick (R-Nazareth)

We've been told, throughout our lives, that if something seems too good to be true, it usually is. That skepticism helps us avoid being taken advantage of by scammers who would be all too happy to swindle us out of our life savings.

However, this time, the concept of money being available – if only you claim it – isn't a scam at all. In fact, the Pennsylvania Treasury Department is currently holding more than $3.4 billion in unclaimed property, with about one in 10 residents eligible to recoup that property.

Unclaimed property is any financial asset that has been left inactive by the owner for three years or more. The most common kinds of unclaimed property include savings and checking accounts, uncashed checks, unclaimed insurance benefits and items abandoned in forgotten safe deposit boxes. The amounts can range from a few dollars to tens of thousands of dollars.

The Treasury is required to advertise the names and addresses of unclaimed property owners in their last known county of residence if the property is valued in excess of $250. While the names and addresses of unclaimed property owners appear in the newspaper only once per year – even if they are owed multiple pieces of property – The Express Times just printed some of the names.

Individuals should be wary of services or "finders" that charge costly fees to help locate unclaimed property. There is no need to pay a private service to submit a claim when there is a FREE and more effective way to conveniently determine if the state is holding some of your money.

Please call my Bangor office at 610-588-8011 or the Nazareth office at 610-746-5090 so my staff can help you determine if unclaimed property is available in your name.
