American Marten Reintroduction Assessment

By Pa. Game Commission

HARRISBURG - The Pennsylvania Board of Game Commissioners took the next step in considering American Marten reintroduction at its meeting on Saturday. Click here to learn more about the species.

The American marten is a native species to Pennsylvania that was extirpated by the early 1920's due to deforestation and unregulated harvest. It weighs between 1-3 pounds and is the same size as the American mink.

The next step in the process includes the Bureau of Wildlife Management developing a plan for reintroduction and management, which will identify optimal release sites, potential source populations, as well as specifics on translocation methodology, research and monitoring, cooperative partnerships and long-term management.

Email us at pgccomments@pa.gov with thoughts, questions and concerns related to the American marten.

Together Today For Tomorrow: Wm + Repreve

By Waste Management

PLAINFIELD TWSP - One example of how WM is helping customers achieve their sustainability goals is WM's partnership with Repreve, a maker of recycled high-performance fiber.

By the numbers: Repreve helps turn more than 20 billion plastic bottles collected through recycling into clothing, sneakers, backpacks, and more.

The big picture: As we work to become the leader in sustainability, this partnership demonstrates WM's commitment to reducing environmental impact through a circular economy. Recycling and recapturing waste to create a new life for recycled materials helps make better use of finite resources while protecting human health and biodiversity.
