BWA Celebrates The Outdoors Online This Year

By BWA

STROUDSBURG - Brodhead Watershed Association will celebrate getting outdoors by going online with its virtual annual Members & Friends Celebration on Friday, Sept. 25, 2020. The event, to be held 6 to 7 p.m. via Zoom, is free, and the public is invited.

Keynote speaker Cindy Dunn, Pennsylvania's secretary of Conservation and Natural Resources, will talk about the extreme popularity of state parks during the pandemic and how DCNR handles the effects of that. Dunn will speak at 6:30 p.m.

The celebration will begin at 6 p.m. with a short meeting to include the election of board members, introduction of BWA's new executive director and the president's report.

BWA's Get Outdoors Poconos program, aimed at introducing people to public open spaces, including state parks and forests, has been running successfully for six years, with a hike per month. Now the hikes are virtual, with video contributed by Pocono Mountains Visitors Bureau and Laughsalot Studios.

Registration is required to attend the celebration and obtain the Zoom link. Please register by emailing your name to info@brodheadwatershed.org. Please write "celebration" in the subject line. Deadline to register is noon Sept. 25.

BWA is also bringing the outdoors online for its annual auction fundraiser, to be held virtually Sept. 16-26. The auction features many outdoor experiences and other outings. To see the prizes and for information, visit biddingowl.com/Auction/home.cfm?auctionID=22263.

For information, email info@brodheadwatershed.org or call 570-839-1120.

Tap Talks

A Fun, Informative Series of Presentations on Water

September 30, 2020 - 6:30PM - 8:00PM

Prayers in Stone:
The Mystery of Ceremonial Stone Landscapes in our Woodlands & Wetlands
Jim Wilson, Northampton County Parks & New England Antiquities Research Association
Bangor Trust Brewing Company - Courtyard, 50 Broadway, Bangor, PA 18013

Ceremonial Stone Landscapes is the term used by the United South & Eastern Tribes (USET), a nonprofit intertribal organization of American Indians, for stonework sites in eastern North America. USET states that, for thousands of years before the immigration of Europeans, the medicine people of the USET Tribal ancestors used these sacred landscapes to sustain the people's reliance on Mother Earth and the spirit energies of balance and harmony. Whether these stone structures are massive or small, stacked, stone rows or effigies, these prayers in stone are often mistaken by archaeologists and State Historic Preservation Offices as the effort of farmers clearing stone for agricultural or wall building purposes. That long held view is now shifting and is being reevaluated in Pennsylvania, which is rich in stone landscape structures, including here in the Lehigh Valley. In this presentation, you'll see scores of photographs of local "prayers in stone," learn how the dates of these structures can now be determined and how the PA State Historic Preservation Office is working with citizen volunteers to document Ceremonial Stone Landscapes across the Commonwealth.

Please comply with all Pennsylvania Department of Health and United States Centers for Disease Control guidelines regarding COVID-19.
