CLOUDS

Cloud formations always fascinate me.
Shaping and forming, and totally free.
Like ships sailing in a sea of blue
Over the horizon, then gone from view.

Cloud formations, completely new each day
A wonderful scene; don't turn away.
Changing patterns to make you
stop and stare,
They can tell of storms, or weather
that's fair.

If you're like me
You will want to see
Cloud formations!

Game Commission Seeks Input on CWD Response Plan

By Pa. Game Commission
HARRISBURG - The Pennsylvania Game Commission has released a draft of its new Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) Response Plan and is seeking public comment on the proposal through early next year.

The proposed plan outlines the commission's goals and objectives in managing CWD, as well as actions that could be implemented to achieve those goals. Those actions could include hunting-related changes, such as expanded deer seasons or removal of antler restrictions, and potential small-scale, targeted removal of deer in certain areas.

Public comments on the plan are being accepted through Feb. 29, 2020, and will be considered in the adoption of a final plan, which will be implemented for the 2020-21 hunting seasons.

CWD, which is always fatal to the deer and elk it infects, was first detected in Pennsylvania in 2012. As of 2018, 250 free-ranging CWD-positive deer have been detected within the state.
