WIND GAP - Slate Belt Rising (SBR) is a neighborhood revitalization initiative targeting the four boroughs of Bangor, Pen Argyl, Portland, and Wind Gap. We strive to achieve community and economic development in the area and increase the quality of life for all, especially the under-resourced and under-privileged. Under our current six-year community plan, SBR has leveraged over $1.4 million in public and private funds for investment in the region, generating tremendous positive impact in the community. Activities have included residential and commercial façade improvements, planting and maintenance of community gardens, streetscape improvements, scholarships for local high school students, and much more.

SBR's work wouldn't be possible without the generosity of various funders such as ESSA Bank & Trust. ESSA will be contributing a total of $50,000 over the first two years of the Neighborhood Partnership Program (NPP) to allow multi municipal participation. "SBR is the only NPP in the state of Pa. with four municipalities, Wind Gap, Pen Argyl, Bangor and Portland."

Ortoski then introduced Northampton County Executive Lamont McClure who has supported SBR since he first took office over four years ago. McClure when running for office pushed for more funding for the Slate Belt, and he has delivered!
