

Congressional Redistricting: Submit, Draw Maps

By State Rep. Joe Emrick

BANGOR - As part of efforts to make sure all Pennsylvanians are heard in the most transparent congressional redistricting process in the state's history, PaRedistricting.com now boasts a new feature that allows residents to draw and submit their version of congressional district maps. Users can choose to make their maps available for public viewing and comment.

The new tool will be live until Friday, Dec. 3. Residents can access the feature by clicking on the "Provide Input" tab at PaRedistricting.com. Users can also view previously held hearings, read testimony and sign up to receive updates.

To date, the House State Government Committee, which is tasked with creating new congressional district maps, has held 11 hearings, including eight regional hearings in various parts of the state to receive input from residents.

Heritage Center The Wants Your 9/11 Memories

The Slate Belt Heritage Center is compiling an oral record of the events of 9/11 as seen through the eyes of local residents. Whether you were a first responder, family member of a first responder, worker in the area of the Twin Towers, someone who helped in the weeks after the attack, or was involved in any way, the Center would like your memories of that time. Walt Cole, retired history teacher from the Pen Argyl School District, would like to record your memories for the Center's Oral Archives. Please contact the Center at 610-599-4993, and leave your name and phone number, so we may contact you. September 11 was a traumatic day in our country's history, and it is very important that these memories be preserved. Please help us do just that. The Slate Belt Heritage Center is a 501(c)(3) organization dedicated to the teaching and preservation of the culture and history of the Slate Belt area.
